Steinhafels will make reasonable efforts to make your delivery as trouble-free as possible. However, tight corners, low ceilings small doorways and other obstacles in the home sometimes make the delivery difficult. Upon preliminary evaluation, our experience indicates that your delivery could pose such a risk if we continue. Steinhafels professional delivery team is responsible for making you aware of this condition in advance, and will not proceed without both your knowledge of the risk and permission to continue. Steinhafels Furniture will not assume any responsibility for any damage done at this time.	Wood floors will be inspected before the delivery occurs. The delivery professionals will note any major flaws or damage. Any damage that occurs to wood flooring needs to be called in to management while the delivery team is in the home. Steinhafels Furniture will not be responsible for any wood floor damage/scratches claims after the delivery team leaves the residence.
